

FACT SHEET

ext. 708

CONTACT:
GOLIN/HARRIS
Chris Olmsted (213) 623-4200,

colmsted@golinharris.com

Pokémon® Battle-e

Format: e-Reader
Launch Date: Oct. 20, 2003
Projected ESRB: E for Everyone
Players: 1
Accessories: Two Game Boy® Advance units, e-Reader, Game Boy® Advance Game Link® cable, Pokémon® Ruby or Pokémon® Sapphire video games
MSRP: $5.99

Summary

Pokémon Battle-e cards allow Pokémon players a chance to battle new Trainers from outside Hoenn after they scan cards at the MYSTERY EVENT prompt when starting Pokémon Ruby or Pokémon Sapphire. Players can access new challenges offered by the cards as they test their skills against new Trainers. Others will enjoy the opportunity to battle characters from previous Pokémon games as they attempt to become the ultimate Pokémon Master.

Features

- Each 18-card pack will be made up of two nine-card sets. Each set contains eight Trainer cards and one Berry card.
- Trainer cards offer new Trainers for players to battle. Each card reveals two of the Trainer's three Pokémon. The third Pokémon remains a mystery until the Trainer is challenged in Pokémon Ruby or Pokémon Sapphire.
- Berry cards: Visit Norman in Petalburg to get a berry that cannot be found in the regular Pokémon Ruby or Pokémon Sapphire games. The berry is rare, so be sure to plant it before using it.
- Cards can be scanned multiple times.

#

